In addition, we have conducted:

- Information, awareness, and prevention campaigns for the general public, educational communities, law enforcement agencies, health, the media, and social services;
- Training for professionals in the social sector (social work, education, social integration, etc.), the Public Prosecutor's Office, O16, Samur Social, etc.;
- Studies and publications about human trafficking and sexual exploitation, including a report on the sexual exploitation of women after the end of the State of Alarm caused by Covid-19.
- Dressmaker training for 12 human trafficking survivors, who have designed the garments in Ulises Mérida's LIBRE Collection, by APRAMP and presented at MBFW Madrid.

We thank you for your support, which allows us to work on behalf of victims of human trafficking and sexual exploitation, creating a fairer society for all people.
